

Ellen J. Harris

Company Fact Sheet

Business-Accelerated® Company is an idea-driven c-corporation specializing in intellectual capital, intellectual revenue assets and intellectual property. Led by Ellen J. Harris the company works with business owners of companies generating $10million in annual net revenues.

Business-Accelerated® Company was founded in 2005 with initial offerings for Hewlett-Packard's Unified Communications unit. The company transitioned to providing Information services while developing a series of micro systems to focus on critical revenue generating work rather than busy work.

About Ellen J. Harris

Mrs. Harris is a three time degree holder from Pace University in New York in Computer Science, Telecommunications and Executive Management, a Marketing Master degree from the University of San Francisco. She is an Alumna of the Chet Holmes Business Masters Series 3.0 and holds a trademark from the U.S.P.T.O. for Business-Accelerated®. She is the author and developer of Business at the Speed of You: 25 Revenue Models for Small Business and speaker. Her Employee to Entrepreneur Transition System is used by professionals transitioning through corporate to small business ownership.

Founding Story

In 2005, while earning her MBA, Mrs. Harris observed corporate professionals struggling to start businesses. Those who successfully started businesses were beholden to the entities facilitating their start.

“The gap, according to Mrs. Harris, “is the required managerial, implementation and execution skills that elude professionals in volatile economic environments. Our products and services separate revenue generating tasks from administration which help owners achieve revenue results quickly”. Our core competence in Operation Management provides tools owners want that improve their efficiency and effectiveness.” Our work includes patent holders and tech startups.

Our Mission

Our mission is to build strong relationships with business owners who rely on us to listen to their concerns, hear their challenges and offer viable recommendations they can review and accept because it is right for their needs and their business. We strive to help strong leaders create strong businesses that sustain themselves in all types of economic climates. A 30 year F50 corporate career provides real insights employees need to rise through the ranks or transition to entrepreneurship. We believe your professional presentation is everything.
